You can't control how someone's story began, but you can impact how it ends.

Who was it that first shared Jesus with you? Tell us about him/her.

Read: Romans 10:9-11

- It seems like this should be so easy: “Confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead and you will be saved.”
- Is it really that simple?
- How do we complicate it? Or to put it another way, why is it so difficult?

Read: Romans 10:12-13

- Frank said that Jesus doesn't belong to one race or culture. Jesus is for all people. What is your reaction to that statement?
- What are the implications of it?

Read: Romans 10:14-15

- Is telling other people about Jesus the job of professional clergy people, or is it the responsibility of all Christians? Support your answer.
- Lost people matter to God. They ought to matter to us, too. How can we nurture a greater sense of urgency to help people become Jesus' disciples?

Prayer: Share with your group one or two people that you know need Jesus in their lives and pray for the courage to be the one who share Christ with them.
